Duukos – Virtual Team Work Activity

Overview

Duukos is a graphical Sudoku problem (hence the name).

Basically the team is split in to different work area and assigned a number of team sheets and given team brief sheets.

Teams must solve their team sheets by placing the icons on the grid in the correct location.

Assign a meeting space location where team members can meet – I normally let the total amount of teams less two meet. This means that information gets delayed.

The connecting grids have the same colour lines on the sides that join together.

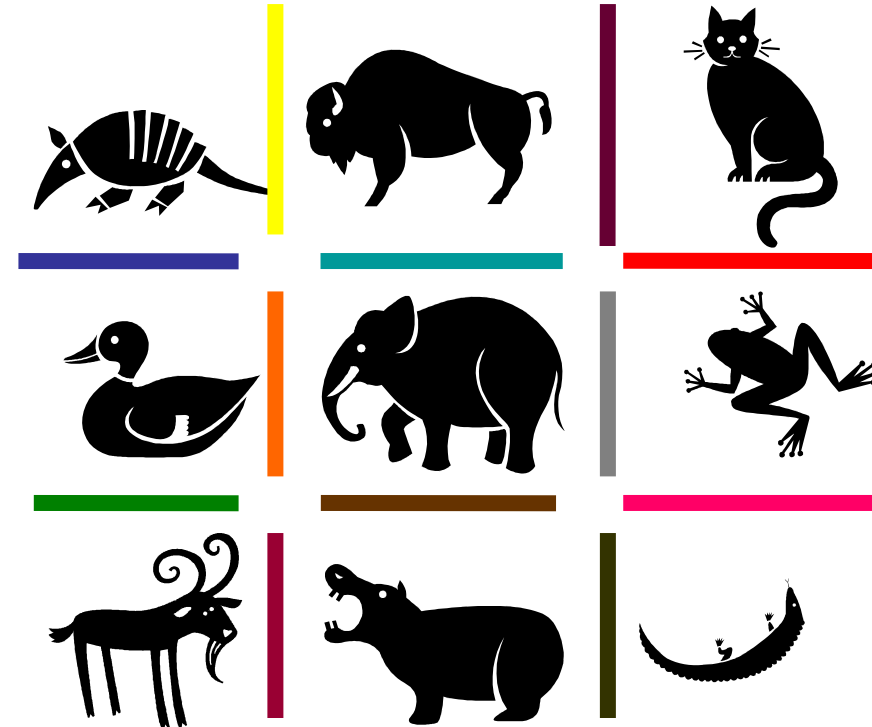

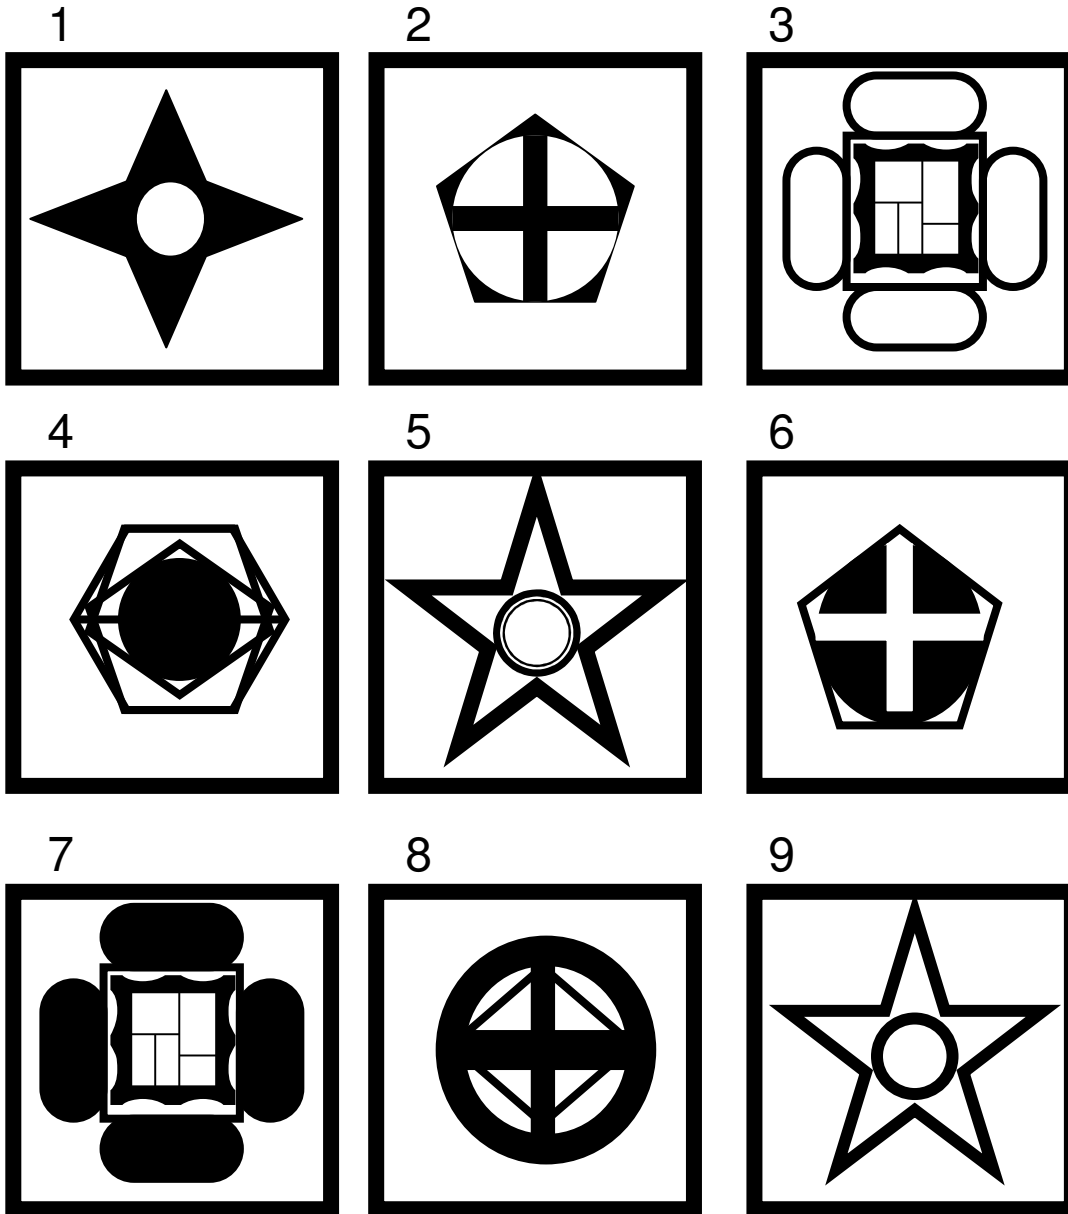

The animals on each sheet provide a way of communicating which sheet they are talking about and they are alphabetically linked:

- First row: Armadillo-Buffalo-Cat
- Second row: Duck-Elephant-Frog
- Third row: Goat-Hippo-Iguana

Ideas for the activity

- Don't let teams meet and just give them radios.
- Don't let teams meet and get them to use their mobiles / blackberries / SMS messages to solve the challenge.
- Don't let teams meet and use some paper messaging system.

Duukos Team Brief

Overview

Your team is a virtual team working at several locations. Your company solves complex mathematical notations. To support your virtual work your company has provided you with a shared working space. This is a location where several members from different teams can meet at once.

Objective

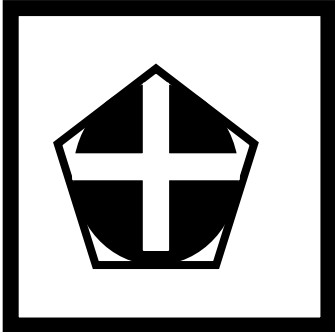

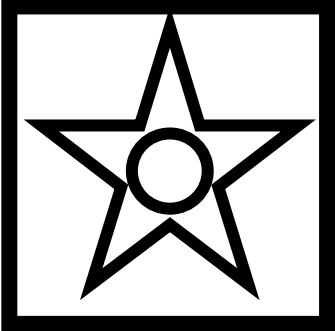

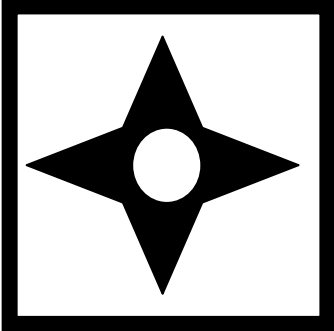

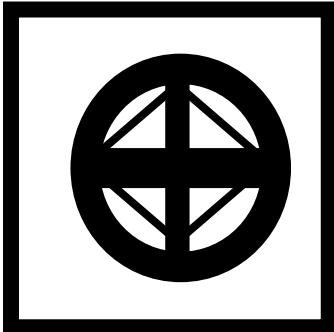

To complete the assigned team sheet(s) by placing the missing icons in their correct locations on the grid(s) (scissors have been provided to cut the missing ones out from the right hand side of the sheet). There is only one correct solution!

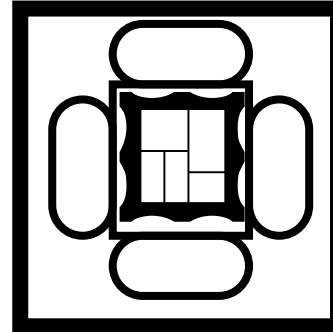

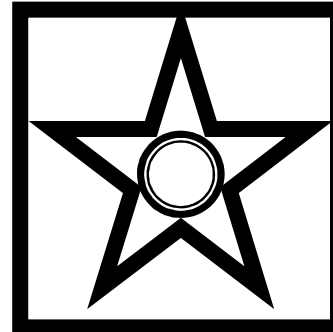

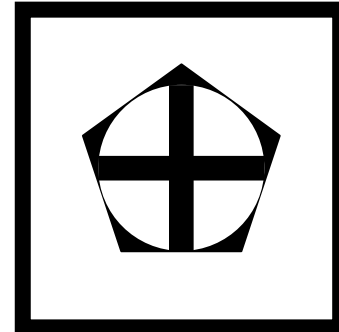

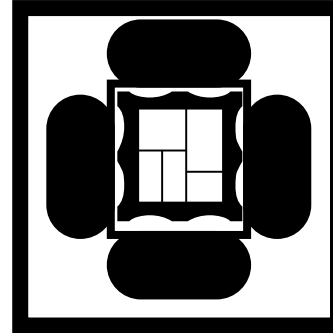

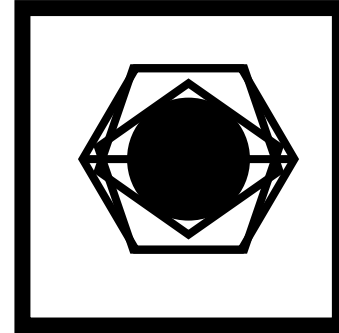

Constraints

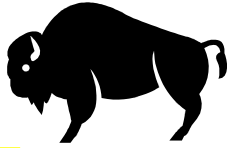

- Your team must work at the location provided.
- The materials you have been given must stay in your team working area.
- Only one person from the team may leave the team working area at any one time to attend meetings at the shared working space.
- At the shared working space, only verbal communication may be used.
- The facilitator will announce how many people may use the shared working space at any one time.
